Jack enjoys Breakfast with the Easter Bunny

Jack Thomas, 2 year old son of Nick and Kacee Thomas, posed sheepishly for a picture with the Easter Bunny before enjoying a breakfast of pancakes on Sat., April 7th at the Watson Building in Brooksville. At this year's Breakfast with the Easter Bunny, the Hometown Traditions Community Cub served breakfast to 250 kids and adults. Each child received a candy filled egg after visiting with the Easter Bunny. Those who have not picked up their complimentary picture with the Easter Bunny can still do so by going to the Bracken Co. Public Library.

Mural dedication held to honor life of Makensie Hay-Youngman

A mural dedication to the life of Makensie Hay-Youngman was held on Saturday, April 7 at the Bracken County Public Library. Four ten-foot paintings, depicting the four seasons, were unveiled in the Children's Wing to a large crowd of Makensie's family, friends, and community members. Everyone knows that it takes a village to raise a child, but Makensie's parents, Gary and Sharon Hay, know it also takes a community to help heal a family.

While Makensie had many accomplishments in her young life, like being an honor student at Bracken County High School, having a degree in biology from the University of Kentucky, a job as a lab tech at East Kentucky Power, and a happy marriage to Ashley Youngman, she still struggled with the darkness of depression. For years her fight with depression took her through struggles of medications and treatments that never quite brought her completely through the darkness she was plagued with.

After her death, her family struggled with a way to come to terms with her death, and because Makensie's love and appreciation of art, this mural was the natural choice to begin the healing process for her family. Local artist Ken Swinson, working with Makensie's family and friends, laid the foundation for the four murals that would capture the beauty of Makensie's life through the depiction of a child's heart and spirit during the four seasons, ultimately showing the happy seasons in Makensie's life by incorporating her love of horses and other things.

The murals are interchangeable and will be moved at seasons end to bring the current season depicted closest to the children's reading area.

Other art pieces were also created by local artist

Ken Swinson in memory of three local boys. Paintings were hung in memory of Brett David Lovins who passed away June 25, 2011, Gregory Thomas Carl who passed away October 25, 2004, and Michael Edward Rudd who passed away April 26, 1992. Those art pieces can be seen on page 12.

Get ready to go camping with 4-H

Spring has sprung and before you know it, summer will be here. 4-H Camp is a great way to fill those lazy summer days. At 4-H Camp, young people learn independence, responsibility, have a lot of fun and make many friends.

4-H camps are open to all Kentucky youth between the ages of 9 and 14. Many exciting activities and adventures await campers. 4-H'ers can spend their days participating in activities ranging from swimming to nature hikes. Not only do many children find these activities fun, but they will likely learn new skills and develop a greater appreciation for the environment and wildlife.

4-H personnel want your child to have camping experience that is not only memorable, but safe. All camp staff and volunteers are trained and undergo background checks prior to camp. Each camp location will have an on-site emergency medical technician at all times to take care of campers' needs.

4-H members from Bracken County will attend North Central 4-H Camp from June 5-8, 2012. Registration forms may be picked up at the Bracken County Extension Office and are due by May 17.

For more information about 4-H Camp, contact the Bracken County Cooperative Extension Service at 606-735-2141 or visit the 4-H Camp website at <http://www2.ca.uky.edu/4-h/camp>.

Dispatchers recognized during Ntl. Telecommunicator Week

The second week in April is recognized nationally as Telecommunicator Week. Emergencies can occur at anytime that require police, fire or emergency medical services. Our E-911 Dispatchers are recognized for the behind the scenes work they do to ensure prompt response of our police officers, firefighters, and EMT's when an emergency occurs. The safety of all emergency personnel depends upon the accuracy and quality of information received from our citizens through the Bracken County Dispatch and others around the nation. Our dispatchers are our first line of defense in deciphering what is actually going on at the scene of an emergency and which emergency services are needed the quickest and which should be on the ready as more information arrives from the emergency personnel as they arrive on the scene. Through their diligence, the dispatchers of the Bracken County E-911 Center have contributed substantially to the apprehension of criminals, suppression of fires and treatment of patients. Each of our eight dispatchers has exhibited compassion, understanding and professionalism during the performance of their job in the past year. Bracken County is proud to recognize the week of April 8th through 14th, 2012 to be National Telecommunicator's Week in Bracken County, in honor of the men and women whose diligence and professionalism keep our county and citizens safe.

Bracken County is fortunate to have 2 full time dispatchers with a combined 16-1/2 years of service and 6 part time dispatchers, many of whom also hold down full time jobs as well as family obligations. The Bracken County Dispatchers are Tony Mains - 9-1/2 years, Lisa Ruf - 7 years, Robin Nelson - 16 years, Ann Honan - 15 years, Lisa Newman - 7-1/2 years, Amy Thornton - 6 years, Megan Browning - 4 years, and Nicole Leopold - 1-1/2 years.

Two Minutes WITH THE BIBLE by Cornelius R. Stam, Founder Berean Bible Society PO Box 756 Germantown, WI 53022

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE RESURRECTION by Cornelius R. Stam

In his great Epistle to the Romans, St. Paul introduces himself immediately as "a bondsman of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle," to proclaim God's good news about Christ.

Paul's "gospel of the grace of God" was essentially about the Lord Jesus Christ. He was always talking about Christ. His epistles are filled with Christ. Christ, in his message, was everything. This is in striking contrast to much of our modern preaching and evangelism, which is not Christ-centered, but man-centered.

The gospel Paul proclaimed was God's good news about Christ and His power and glory in defeating Satan, overcoming death, paying for sin and nailing the Law to His cross.

This is why the Apostle calls his message "the good news of the glory of Christ" (II Cor. 4:4). To enter experientially into the truth of this good news is the greatest blessing one can possibly experience.

In Verse 4 of his introduction to the Roman Epistle, the Apostle declares that Christ was powerfully declared to be the Son of God "by the resurrection from the dead."

The resurrection of Christ had been both prophesied and proclaimed as a historical fact before Paul, but to Paul was committed a special message of good news concerning the resurrection. In his God-given message, Christ was raised from the dead to demonstrate that as God the Son He had paid the full penalty for sins that would have sunk a world to hell. Thus the Apostle writes to Timothy, his son in the faith:

"Consider what I say, and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.

"Remember that Jesus Christ, of the seed of David [this is how Christ had formerly been known] was raised from the dead according to my gospel, wherein I suffer trouble as an evildoer, even unto bonds" (II Tim. 2:7-9).

Read the Epistles of Paul and see how salvation by grace through faith always hinges upon the finished work of Christ for our redemption. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."

We had our last Lenten Service in the Presbyterian Church this past Wednesday. There was good attendance and we had good fellowship and fine food.

On Saturday our women served food at the sale of Bertha Walton's property. Bertha was a long-time member of our church who passed away recently. The women of our church did quite well in preparing the food and they ran out of much of what they had prepared. I always enjoy going to a sale conducted by Perry Poe & his associates.

On Wed., Apr. 11 we will continue having our bread basket meals. The grill will be brought out and many wonderful foods such as smoked sausages, hamburgers, hot dogs, and kielbasa will be grilled. There will also be baked beans and wonderful desserts as well as some sauerkraut to be used to garnish much of the grilled meat.

On Easter Sunday we had 66 in attendance. I used for the basis of my message the experience on the road to Emmaus.

Mary Murray was the liturgist. Susie Hargett sang a beautiful song, "Then Came The Morning" (which she had done in the Sharon Presbyterian Church earlier). I did the children's message. Kay Grooms did the power point. Shelby England had children's church.

The choir had a special Easter song, "Gone" and as always we had our wonderful musicians, Vidie Grace, Genna Lou, Margie, and Paul.

NOW FOR THE GOOD NEWS

The recommendation that people with diabetes schedule regular visits to the ophthalmologist and do their best to control blood sugar levels seems to be paying off. According to the most recent report, diabetes-related vision complications have declined significantly over the past 15 years. This is rather significant news in light of the fact that, while the number of adults with diabetes has risen, the proportion of adults with diabetes who reported vision impairment has decreased. The improvement can be attributed to better control of diabetes risk factors (such as blood glucose and blood pressure) and improved detection and treatment of diabetes-related eye problems (including glaucoma, cataracts, and retinopathy). It is heartening to see that education is paying off.

Six couples celebrate milestone at Church of Christ of Alexandria

The Church of Christ of Alexandria congregation contains six couples that have celebrated their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversaries since July of 2011. That is quite an accomplishment for the church, which has an average attendance of 80 people.

Most of the couples have ties to Bracken County and the minister, Bob Cannon, who is also from Bracken County, said he thought the ministers tied the wedding knot tighter in his home county. All of these couples have allowed God to be an important part of their marriages and therein lies the basis for a long-lived marriage.

About thirty years ago Sandra Sue Milner heard a friend tell her 12 year old son that he was the only person he knew whose parents were still married to each other. That statement really shocked her and the first thing out of her mouth was that he should come to her church and he would see a lot of parents who remain married to each other. She understands bad things happen to good people and sometimes a separation and divorce cannot be avoided but it seems to her that it has been made it too easy to just walk away from a marriage instead of trying to work through problems - and, yes, it is work but if you would ask any of these six couples celebrating their Golden Anniversaries, Sandra is sure they would tell you that the work of holding their marriages together with God as an equal partner in the marriage is well worth all the effort they have expended.

Those celebrating anniversaries are: Ron and Patty Gabelman, Tom and Patsy Frank, Don and Joyce Reed, Jerry and Sandra Metzger Milner, Bob and Madeline Ruf, and Arvel (Sonny) and Glenna Hiles Allender.

The Church of Christ of Alexandria is located at 1054 Poplar Ridge Road in Alexandria. Church service times are Sunday 9:15 a.m., 10:30 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. and the phone number is 859-635-4160.

Galloways Celebrate 30th Anniversary

It's all about the numbers with Regan and Trish Galloway. On April 10, 1982, they pledged to spend the rest of their lives together. Since then they've been blessed with two children, Dusty and Brandy Rae. They've lived in one house down a nice lane in Berlin for the past 30 years. Life has been difficult at times, losing 3 of their 4 total parents and grieving through that together.

Still there has been amazing adventure around every turn. Regan and Trish travelled about 6000 miles round trip to spend their 25th anniversary in Hawaii. In Michigan, they got to drive their own car around the speedway at 70 m.p.h., then Trish got the chance to drive a race car around the same track at 140 m.p.h.

Though the moments of pain and excitement have been innumerable, those are not the real numbers that define this 30 year marriage. It started and it still exists today all because TWO people fell in love.

If you see them around, be sure to congratulate them on their commitment and wish them another 30 or so more!

Howdy Folks! We pray that everyone had a most beautiful and blessed Easter Sunday! While it started out on the chilly and cloudy side, the sun broke through and gave us a great day to share with family and friends. Not only was it Easter Sunday, it was Bin & Bug's 45th wedding anniversary! Wow! So hard to believe that so many years have passed, but God has blessed us with a wonderful and loving family for which we will always be grateful!

Having this big, loving family will be our strength and support as we stumble through the next two days. This article is being written on Sunday evening because tomorrow we will be busy. As we were so excited to tell you last week that our son Larry was coming home from the hospital on Monday, we are even more saddened to tell you that Larry passed away early Holy Thursday morning, April 5, 2012. Spending the last seven weeks in the hospital was the hardest and most painful time that Larry ever endured.

Larry wanted to come home so badly and the doctors and nurses worked to accomplish that goal. Even though he was home for only two days before God called him to his eternal home, he was surrounded by everyone who loved him unconditionally his entire thirty-nine years. We have received so much love and support, cards and well-wishes, and prayers from folks we have never even met and we have been truly humbled by this experience.

This article has nothing to do with the business of Solid Waste Management because our minds and hearts cannot at this moment get beyond our loss. We know every one of you has experienced the loss of loved ones and we know from your correspondence that you know what we are feeling because you have been there and done that. Unfortunately, it is never easy and we know that time will ease our pain, but the void in our hearts and in our family will remain forever.

For those of you who never met Larry, we can tell you that his smile was the first thing you saw and it, if only momentarily, diverted your attention from the wheel chair in which he sat and the disabilities of his little body. Larry never walked, and never uttered a word, but as St. Francis once said to his followers, 'teach the gospel, and use words if you have to.' Larry didn't have to. The spontaneous smile and utter trust in those around him spoke volumes of the love that God has for us! He was truly happy with the life that God chose for him and wanted everyone to share in that gift of total trust and love. Larry's visitation will be on Monday night and we will celebrate his life at his funeral on Tuesday, and by the time you read this, even those will be memories. It will be with heavy hearts that our family resumes normal activities and once again get on with living, so at this point in time the best we can muster for now is to encourage you to show your love for your loved ones and Mother Earth by RECYCLING, REUSING and REDUCING to keep God's earth clean, green and beautiful. Be seein' you – Bin & Bug.

Featured is Shadow a very nice female lab that has already been spayed. She loves to ride, can stay inside or outside, and is friendly with everyone. Her owner was going through tough times and hated to give her up and hopes she gets a great home. Your Shelter also has a Chihuahua, another very nice black Lab (neutered), an Australian shepherd pup and other mixed breeds.

The Bracken County Animal Shelter is open weekdays 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., but much of that time is spend away on calls. I try to make sure I'm at the Shelter from 10:30 until Noon daily. We are only here on Saturday by appointment and closed Sundays and Holidays.

Bracken Co. Extension Homemakers have once again proved that Bracken County is a loving and caring community of volunteers. Thank you so much to those persons who donated items for the Tornado Relief efforts in Pendleton County. Your kindness and generosity is greatly appreciated. Thank you Amanda Gerhard for transporting the items to Pendleton County. Thank you Edith McKinney for coordinating the care drive. It is so nice to know that we live in a county where we can come together to help those in need. Thank you once again for your kindness and generosity. It truly is appreciated.

Respectfully,

Operation Preparation observed at Augusta Ind. School

Operation Preparation is a powerful opportunity for schools, students, parents and communities to collaborate in effective advising for Kentucky middle and high school students to help them focus on the importance of planning for college and/or a career. A joint effort of the Kentucky Department of Education and the Department of Workforce Development, Operation Preparation has the potential to reach more than 100,000 statewide.

The pivotal years in the college/career planning process in Kentucky are those in the 8th and 10th grades. Operation Preparation will help the students to maximize their educational opportunities and provide them with the opportunity to hear about the importance of college/career planning and readiness.

Eighth grade students at Augusta Independent visited the campus of Maysville Community and Technical College on March 8th, for a tour and to listen to representatives speak about the benefits of attending MCTC to further their education.

The Sophomore Class of Augusta Independent visited the campus of Northern Kentucky University on March 27th, to tour and learn more about the degrees and educational resources available through the university.

Augusta Independent School played host for the eighth grade students on Friday, March 30th, in allowing them the opportunity to participate in a Reality Store project co-sponsored with the University of Kentucky - Bracken County Cooperative Extension Office. Reality Store is based on their GPA's and future career choice. Several booths (such as: Uncle Sam, Transportation, Food, Entertainment, etc.) were set up with community volunteers in the school gym, and it was up to the youth to visit each booth and learn how to live on a future income with the hope being they would have a positive balance at the end of the event. On Friday afternoon, a small career fair was held in the school gym for students in grades eight, ten and twelve to bring Operation Preparation to a close. Guests spoke to students in a more personal format as they were paired according to what their future careers might be. The youth if undecided rotated through the groups to gain more information on a possible future career.

Below: Bracken Co. Cooperative Ext. agent David Appel-man working the Property Taxes booth during the Reality Store event. He is conversing with AIS eighth grade student Daniel Woodruff about the amount of property taxes that he must pay.

AIS 10TH grade students listening to Elly Hall a student representative and President's Ambassador for NKU speak on the benefits of being a student at NKU and the many career paths that are offered on campus.

Gwen Pollard, an AIS alumnus and now practicing attorney spoke to several students about college requirements to obtain a law degree, her past employment as a Public Defender, and what she now does to operate her own law office in our area.

AIS 8TH grade student Max Hargett had a chance to participate in the MCTC version of the Price Is Right. He had to answer questions about information received during the presentation on MCTC by Billie Barbour and other campus staff.

Bracken County Sheriff and AIS Alumnus Howard Niemeier spoke to the group about his years in law enforcement for a larger city in northern Kentucky and his time now as the enforcement for our county.

P.T. Cook's diary entry for November 1864 Civil War battle

This entry in Judge P. T. Cook's diary includes the description of a battle fought between the Union Army and a Confederate group led by General Nathan Bedford Forrest. After the Civil War, Forrest became the founder of the Ku Klux Klan in Tennessee.

26 November 1864 - Detailed as a guard with others for sixty (60) prisoners. The regiment is sustaining us. At 10 o'clock at night we marched out of Columbia, down the Duck River a mile or two, and crossed on a pontoon bridge and marched a mile or two farther and go into camp, near Rutherford's Creek.

27 November 1864 - The roads were so muddy that it ran over the top of our boots one time and near the top often.

28 November 1864 - Break camp and marching both. In a little way I became so tired that I threw away my knapsack, containing all my clothes, save what I had on and my blanket.

About noon we arrived at Thompson's Station and went into camp. At night we put the prisoners in a little church and guarded them. When off duty, I wrap my blanket around me and sleep under a blanket.

29 November 1864 - After dinner (Nathan Bedford) Forrest's cavalry appear on our right, make a dash, and drive us back near Spring Hill. They get the sixty (60) prisoners and take a few of our men as prisoners.

In the run I lost my blanket and haversack. Forest's men kill thirty-six (36) mules, burn six (6) wagons and kill a few refugees.

At night I turn the cape of my overcoat over my head and lay down in the mud in a corn field to sleep without any supper. During the night, I was aroused twice, once to be given thirty-six (36) rounds of ammunition and once to be given three (3) crackers.

30 November 1864 - At 2 o'clock a.m. we started north to Franklin, Tennessee, arrived at 8 or 9 o'clock and go into camp. In the afternoon Company "H" came in and Amos, whom I had not seen for more than a month. I asked for his haversack. It had nothing in it but meat. I ate a piece of fat mess port raw.

At about three o'clock our regiment started for Nashville, but just as we got to the end of the bridge across the Harper River, our Lieutenant Colonel Dan McCoy received a request to remain and lie in reserve.

He put the matter to vote and all but six or eight voted to stay. We went back and were placed in the second reserve in the rear of the 16th Kentucky, which was in first reserve and for the occasion we were assigned to the 3rd Division, 3rd Brigade, 233rd Army Corps under General Riley, who was under General Cox. Just at sundown the battle began.

CRP Sign-up Deadline
Extended to April 13

The USDA Farm Service Agency announced the sign-up deadline for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) has been extended to April 13.

After the CRP general sign-up ends on April 13, FSA will evaluate offers based on cost and the Environmental Benefits Index (EBI). The EBI takes into consideration variables such as wildlife habitat, water quality protection, soil erosion reduction, air quality protection and other enduring benefits. Accepted offers will become effective October 1, 2012.

Producers with expiring contracts and producers with environmentally sensitive land are encouraged to evaluate their options under CRP.

Producers are urged to contact their local FSA service center or visit FSA's website at fsa.usda.gov for additional information regarding CRP.

Ciggy Butts visits Bracken Co.
Middle School for Kick Butts Day

On Kick Butts Day, March 21, 2012, the Bracken County Health Department along with the Bracken County Family Resource and Youth Services Center set up an informational booth on the dangers of smoking at the Bracken County Middle School during their lunch rotation.

The students got to come up and view the display and ask questions. There was also a special visitor during this time. Ciggy Butts was present and helped to get the message out! Ciggy did a great job! BCMS teachers were asked to decorate their doors for Kick Butts Day. There were three winners. Ms. Persinger received 1st place, Ms. Vater received 2nd place as did Ms. Dice. They were all very good and it was hard to choose a winner! They each received a Wal-Mart gift card to use for classroom supplies. Everyone who participated with Kick Butts Day is greatly appreciated.

Groundhog Day is every day for basketball in Kentucky

While we wait for Bobby Petrino's lips to move again, these things...

For Hoops fans in Kentucky today is a Bill Murray Groundhog Day ... and tomorrow, and day after that.

A national championship for Big Blue Nation; two state schools reached a Final Four, four locals made the Big Dance, and next season looks bright for all.

College basketball season 2011-12 in Kentucky was the grandest of grand statewide parties, bigger than the Barnstable Twins Derby bash and bigger than a Richie Farmer ballyhoo for No. 32.

But, like all good things, hoops season in Kentucky comes to an end, right? Wrong.

Every day is Groundhog Day in the Bluegrass. Fans are ready for "what's next?"

- First, don't worry, shipments of University of Kentucky memorabilia – shirts, shorts, socks, booties, figurines, pennants, Colonel Sanders in blue, and cheerleader outfits for infants, and whatever else can bear a Big Blue label – are on the shelves with more to come.

Cha-ching!

This week, a note to the one-and-doners at UK, a quiet and appreciative thank you and "see ya!"

Turn the page, begin Part IV. High school signing days began this week and the NCAA mandated date for college underclassmen to withdraw their names from the NBA draft was Wednesday.

By last Monday 24 college underclassmen had declared for the NBA's June draft. None was named Anthony Davis, Michael-Kidd Gilchrist or Peyton Siva.

However the Ugly List, another way of saying NBA Draft Tracker Top 100 lists Davis and Kidd-Gilchrist first and second with Terrence Jones tenth.

- Meanwhile, University of Kentucky's eighth national title made for punch lines and clever re-inventions.

- ✓ State's bird, the (red) cardinal, was cast in all blue with No. 23 on its chest feathers.

- ✓ For UPS and its Christian Laettner/The Shot teevee commercial, an enterprising photo-shop creator air-brushed Laettner's shot 20 years ago, being blocked by Anthony Davis.

Moving to next Groundhog Day, or Season IV ...

- April 10, prime high school stars not already committed could pick a college. By evening same day, the buzz was clear. In barbershops, beauty shops, local diners, gas stations, Sunday School classrooms, pubs and sports bars across the Commonwealth, in-the-know local experts were holding court, projecting 2012-13.

- Amid the buzz, a windfall possibility for John Calipari. If 6-9, 240-pound UConn transfer Alex Oriakhi moves to Kentucky, Cal will have his very own Festus Ezeli brand next season.

- Next Groundhog Day(s) happen in Princeton, New Jersey, Indianapolis and Louisville. Buzz from AAU teams and phenom-producing all-star summer camps fill whatever void remains.

- Groundhog Day after that? Summer and fall pick-up game reports from Seaton Center at UK, Cardinal Gym UofL as well as Murray and Western Kentucky.

- October – camp-outs in Lexington for Big Blue Madness.

Groundhog Day every day.

University of Kentucky's JOYLESS CELEBRATION?

Kentucky fans celebrating in Lexington streets last week forgot to read and/or New York Times writers Pete Thamel and Greg Bishop didn't see the uh, joyless celebration.

"The confetti inside the Louisiana Superdome ... also fell with a certain joylessness on a college sport many believe has been cynically compromised," Thamel and Bishop opined.

To affirm their case, the writers added, "John Calipari is doing what the system allows him to do," David Ridpath, an assistant professor of sport administration at Ohio University said. "I guess in that sense, congratulations."

Ridpath added: "Anyone who thinks that this has anything to do with the collegiate or educational model is flat-out wrong."

RICHIE FARMER

Media scrutiny devoted to ex-Kentucky Wildcat Richie Farmer by the state's major newspapers has reached a point of making the ex-Commissioner of Agriculture, a martyr.

Newspaper revelations, if true, of Farmer's lavish spending while in state office and candidate for Lieutenant Governor, while state budget belt tightenings were going on at the state house, your house and mine, is a stunner.

Yet, Farmer deserves a large A-plus for audacity. To believe he could replenish his department's transportation fleet, put a girlfriend on the payroll, roll taxpayer dollars into a pool of cash donated by companies doing business with Kentucky for conventions and parties, and nobody would take notice, is amazing.

ARichieFarmerre-invention himself, a comeback to elected state office would be comparable to a Christian Laettner shot being blocked by No. 32.

WORTH REPEATING DEPT.

From The New York Times: Mark Emmert, president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, had already expressed regret that the NBA's so-called one-and-done rule allows universities to recruit athletes who show little interest in getting an education. That said, Emmert was not going to be forfeiting any of the tens of millions of dollars his organization made as a result of the tournament the Kentucky team was so spectacular in winning.

QUESTIONS/ANSWERS

Q. Was University of Kentucky 2011-12 best in school history? Yes.

A. 38-2 record and national title speak for themselves, but best evidence is answer to this question – did media, analysts or fans use the term Go-To-Guy through the season? Basketball as team sport produced an NCAA title.

Q. What exactly is the one-and-done rule?

A. As part of its collective bargaining agreement with NBA owners in 2005, the players union insisted on age 19 for NBA entry, creating the expression Gap Year. It translated into a weak and bad idea to not allow high schoolers jumping straight to the NBA.

Criticism leveled at Calipari as king of one-and-done has merit because Kentucky's coach is forthright that his system works for winning and has instant riches for teens, his employer, companies associated with UK through licensing and products, and has nothing to do with college education. And so it goes.

“School Library Month” perfect time to donate

April is “School Library Month” and in celebration of it, Taylor Elementary will host a Scholastic Book Fair April 23 - 27, in the library. As many of you know the West Liberty Elementary School, in Morgan Co., KY, was completely devastated by a tornado on March. This year Taylor’s book fair proceeds will be used to purchase books for the library at West Liberty Elementary. They will also be doing a “new” book drive for the school library that was destroyed. For the book drive students can purchase a new book from the book fair or bring a new book purchased from another store to donate. The books will be delivered to the school this May so the students will have new books to read when they open again in August.

“Our students at Taylor Elementary always look forward to the book fair and getting books, but this year I wanted to do something for those kids in West Liberty that don’t have the books they need, to read and learn at school,” said Anna Cummins, Librarian at Taylor.

The book fair is open to the public and they would like to invite parents, grandparents, and anyone else who would like to come. They will be having a “Family Event” on Tuesday, April 24th from 5–8 p.m., when parents are encouraged to attend with their child to purchase books for them. A large selection of books will be available for preschool age through adults. The book fair always offers books, educational products, award-winning titles, children’s classics, and current bestsellers from more than 150 publishers.

If you plan to pay for purchases with a check make them payable to Taylor Elementary School. There is no tax on purchases. Students will be bringing home a flyer with titles and prices listed that will be available for purchase at the Book Fair along with a letter that has a schedule of when their class will visit the Book Fair. We hope to see you at this year’s Book Fair to help us make it a successful one.

Families donate art to Children’s Wing in memory of loved ones

Everyone deals with the death of child in different ways. Three local families have joined with the family of Makensie Hay-Youngman to honor the lives of their lost loved ones with art work donated to the Bracken County Public Library Children’s Wing. Those remembered for lives cut short were Gregory Thomas Carl, Michael Edward Rudd, and Brett David Lovins. Carl lost his battle with drugs on October 25, 2004 at the age of 24. Rudd took his life on April 26, 1992 at the age of 19. And Lovins lost his life in an accident on June 25, 2011 at the age of 22. The loss of their loved ones remains hard for the families, but through the art work, they hope to bring comfort to other families and awareness to other young people that the choices they make today impact more than themselves, but the lives of all they knew and loved. Ken Swinson was the artist for this art work as well and they went on display at the library on Sat., April 7th.

April is Autism Awareness month

What is Autism?

Autism spectrum disorder (ASD) and autism are both general terms for a group of complex disorders of brain development. These disorders are characterized, in varying degrees, by difficulties in social interaction, verbal and nonverbal communication and repetitive behaviors. ASD can be associated with intellectual disability, difficulties in motor coordination and attention and physical health issues such as sleep and gastrointestinal disturbances.

Signs of autism and symptoms of autism tend to emerge between 2 and 3 years of age.

Some signs of autism are:

- no big smiles or joyful expressions by six months,
- no back and forth expressions or sounds by nine months,
- no babbling by 12 months,
- no back and forth gestures such as pointing, waving, showing by 12 months,
- no words by 16 months,
- no two-word meaningful phrases (without imitating or repeating) by 24 months,
- any loss of speech, babbling, or social skills at any age.

If you suspect your child has autism, speak to your doctor. If your child has autism, early intervention is of great importance. Autism is being diagnosed in one of every 110 children and this rate is increasing 10-17% annually. There is no explanation for this continued increase and no cure for autism. Increasing awareness is key to early intervention.

Show your support for Autism Awareness by lighting up your home, business, school, house of worship or website in the color blue. Help shine a light on autism and bring much needed attention to this global health crisis.

It’s easy to show your support by changing your light bulbs from white to blue.

The Bracken County Autism Support Group meets the third Monday of each month at 6 p.m. at St. James Hall.
